

	Above Standard	Meets Standard	Approaching Standard	Below Standard
Story Structure	Synthesis of composition, gestures and structure is used to establish and enhance characters with heightened relationships and a fully developed complex story.	Synthesis of composition, gestures and structure is used to establish characters and relationships and develop story.	Partial synthesis of composition, gestures and structure implies characters, and relationships; story is partially developed.	Synthesis of composition, use of gestures and structure is lacking; relationships and story are unclear.
Labels/Sign	Labels/signs are used intentionally to create a clear shift between compositions and increase the impact the story	Labels/signs are used intentionally to create a clear shift between compositions	Labels/signs are used inconsistently or disrupt the shift between compositions	Labels/signs are not used intentionally and do not create clear shifts between compositions